

Camden County Library District
Policy Manual

Section 2.

Subsection 24. Severe Weather Policy

In the case of a tornado warning issued by the National Weather Service, patrons will be advised that there is an active tornado warning by the best and fastest means possible. All patrons will be advised of the shelter areas in the building. If a patron chooses to leave, do not interfere. Patrons who leave during a tornado warning do so at their own risk. Any unaccompanied minors in the building will be required to go to a designated shelter area until the tornado warning expires.
