I am a CCLD library cardholder.

(If objection is to material(s) other than a book, change the wording of the following questions so that they apply).

To what in the book do you object? (Please be specific) Nothing. As a student told me, "It is better to read about it than actually experience it."

What do you feel might be the result of reading this book? Learning to love yourself.

For what age would you recommend this book? Young Adult High School

Is there anything good about the book?

It shows how you can overcome problems, develop true, deep friendships and relationships.

Did you read the entire book? Yes: No: If no, what parts?:

The DUFF was a winner in the end.

Are you aware of the judgment of this book by literary critics?

I have read that others objected to sex in the book. I only read foreshadowing of sex. Also, they were 18 years old.

What do you believe is the theme of this book?

It is about the hardships of senior friendships. There is bullying and family issues. It shows overcoming being marginalized.

What would you like the library to do about this book?

Do not lend it to my child

Withdraw it from all readers as well as my child

Send it back to the staff selection official for re-evaluation

In its place, what book of equal library-quality would you recommend that would convey as valuable a picture and perspective of the subject related?

I do not want it replaced. I feel that this book would've been of value to me when I was a teen.
